It is now a fact that Gen. Harbut at the train home to sight.

It is now a fact that the people traveling long distances to hear him.

IT was a time in the history of Macou county when the Democratic party was so demoralized as it is now.
its leaders are perfectly at sea.

SPeAKING of the brave cause going on in South Carolina, a Georgia paper tells us: "Wherever a Radical head appears, it is fit." Of course for this we have a Republican government.

LET the people turn out in force to night to hear the Head of Shiloh, Gen.
Stephen A. Harbut. He is not surprised as a public speaker by any man in Illinois to day, and those who hear him will not be disappointed. Ladies especially invited.

EXTENSIVE preparations have been made for the great Republican mass meeting at Bloomington on the 9th, at which Hon. James G. Blaine will be the principal speaker. Special trains will be run on all the roads leading into Bloomington.

"OLD WINCHESTER," the famous horse rode by Sheridan on that historic day when he heard the booming of the cannon, and he "twenty miles away," died last Tuesday evening in Chicago. He had not been on active duty for some time, but had been tenderly cared for by his warrior rider. His great achievement has been read by every schoolboy in the land, and millions have felt the thrill of patriotic pride that would not be repressed when they heard
the words:

"Hurrah! Hurrah for Sheridan!"

The Burlington Hawkeye screamed
with delight over the coming of Blaine.
Among the paragraphs on Tuesday morning were the following:

Senator Blaine is Pennsylvania by birth,
Muile by adoption, and Iowa in politics.

Mr. Blaine, you are heartily welcome.

If you see anything in the state of Iowa
you want, take it along.

Oh, we haven't forgotten the time, Jim
Blaine.

When our friends in the House were so few, and we needed a man to count a thousand, Jim.

And the man that we wanted was you.

How we cheered as you led us to victory
then.

And we thought, as we shouted for Blaine.

That low timber grew rugged and strong,
Way down in the state of Maine.

DOES the Decatur Review think the people of this district will be misled by its publication of the glaring falsehood that Mr. Cannon voted against the renegotiation of silver? Not at all; such statements from his enemies do Mr. Cannon good, for it shows that falsehood is the only possible weapon
which can be used against him.—Decatur Review.

If we must have inflation, let it
come by means of good honest money
—gold, silver and convertible greenbacks. This legitimate sort of inflation will come by the taking effect of the Resumption Act, next January, when $230,000,000 in gold and silver coin will be added to the country's $700,000,000 of good, redeemable paper currency. Wouldn't $900,000,000
of such honest money be preferable to the millions or billions of stamp-tail trash which the "National Greenbacks" and the soft-money Democrats propose to force upon the country,
in the shape of irredeemable and inconvertible "flat money?" —Chicago Journal.

The Way it Looks Down Here.

Malden Jones, who is running for Congress in the Fourteenth Illinois
District on the Democratic greenback ticket, has gone a step further. In his anxiety to get the same Harbut vote,
Jones is now making red-hot "flat"
speeches.

By this move, he will drive
from him all the decent Democrats and catch a dozen or two of lunatics. Congressman Cannon's re-election is assured, by an increased majority.

A SIMPLE GREENBACK.

From the Washington Standard. The other day General Winfield the National Greenback, condition the Congress, was in great haste to catch a train the use of his appointment to catch a train the Greenback of the day he found, and wildly began to run his car. And at the moment of running he discovered that he had lost his speech. The secretary handed him a half manuscript. "There's," said Harbut, glancing at the opening lines, "that's not in that sort of my own flat speech." The secretary made a few at the expense book and handed Harbut another. "I don't know what are you thinking of?" This is not a Democratic speech. Another plunge was a pigeon-hole, and another manuscript. "Just heavens," bawled the impatient voter, "this is the speech of my antecedently year!" Give me. The secretary made another dive and came up with another speech. The Greenback leader groaned and dashed to the floor. "Great Caesar's ghost, he wailed, "my old Liberal Republican speech! Will you?" "Then," said the perspiring secretary, "there's only this one left." "That's it!" shouted the man of many coats, "that's it!" He seized it and dashed away. Safely on the train, he opened the manuscript. "Blight of my soul," groaned the Greenback apostle, "my last year's hardmoney speech!" And he fell fainting to the floor.

THE THREE CANDIDATES.

The course of the three candidates for congress in this district cannot but be noticeable. Two of the candidates take positive positions, and the people know just where to find them. Mr. Cannon favors a redeemable currency, he would retain all the greenbacks that can be maintained at par, but would not banish gold and silver from circulation. Mr. Harper believes in an irredeemable currency, and would print paper money in exhaustless quantities. Mr. Cannon opposes contraction and inflation, Mr. Harper opposes contraction and favors inflation. Thus both occupy out-and-out positions. Both of them are to be commended on this account, though we, of course, do not endorse Mr. Harper's views.

But how is it with Mal. Jones? When he is with an inflation, repudiating Democrat, he talks the softest kind of soft money, but when he gets in with one of the hard money persuasion, and they are by no means few, he has hard money opinions. In fact he is trying to ride two horses, each going in opposite directions. This may be a good way to catch votes, but we think not. It appears to us that the people prefer a man who is outspoken in his views, that they may know what they can rely on.—Monticello Herald.

Last winter the Democratic House ousted Judge Belford, of Colorado, from his seat, on the mere technicality, and installed his competitor, whom the people had elected to stay at home. It was a little the meanest piece of partisanship by the Confederate Brigadiers since their installment in Washington. Now the people of the gallant little state have rebuked this piece of shamelessness, and not only returned Judge Belford by a big majority, but have elected a Republican legislator, and the entire Republican state ticket. Colorado deserves a big tally.

EX-GOVERNOR PATTER, through his newspaper—the Springfield Register is lecturing the Democracy of the state because they do not "exhibit that activity and zeal" which, as he thinks, the occasion demands. Why, bless your impudent soul, are they not exercising their utmost "activity and zeal" all over the state for the one great and only object of buying up or selling themselves to the "Greenbackers"? Do you suppose their resources in the matter of "activity and zeal" are inexhaustible and infinite? Be reasonable, can't you?

Our imports during the twelve months ending August 31st amounted to $439,885,017, a falling off of $34,691,731 as compared with the corresponding twelve months of the preceding year. Our exports during the same time amounted to $720,484,171, being an increase of $117,204,881 over the preceding twelve months. Excess of exports over imports for the twelve months ending August 31, $289,623,154, or, in other words, the balance of trade is that much in our favor.

Our lines are pretty squarely drawn this year, and the army of "independent patrochers" make but little surface showing. We have never seen Democrats with longer faces or redder noses. They are symptoms of internal disquietude. —Inter-Ocean.

THREE ARMED.—Yesterday afternoon, as officer Brockway left the fair ground and walked toward the railroad track on his way home, he noticed a couple of men in pursuit of a third—the latter having a couple of bundles under his arm. Mistaking something wrong, he awaited the fellow's approach, who was coming toward him. Just before the fugitive reached the fence between him and the officer he dropped his bundles and was about to jump the fence, when Mr. Brockway presented his pistol and told him to halt, which he did. When the pursuing men came up they picked up the bundles which the fellow had stolen from their wagon, being purchases which they had made in town. The fellow was turned over to the police on the ground and taken before Justice Albert, who held him to bail in the sum of $500, in default of which he was committed to the county jail.

GENERAL HUNTER at the courthouse to-night.

The Decatur band is entitled to the first premium for the excellent music furnished during the fair.

But few Decatur people went to the St. Louis fair this week, owing to the fact that our own fair is in progress.

The show of farm products at the fair this year excels in quantity and quality that of any previous year.

P. T. Locke, the music man, has a fine stock of Pianos and Organs at his ware-room in Opera Block. Call and see the new upright piano.

THE CARNIVAL PAGEANT at St. Louis, on the evening of the 8th inst., promises to be one of the grandest affairs ever witnessed in the Mississippi Valley. The Wabash Railway will hold its train that evening until midnight, to enable people to witness all the beauties of the great parade.

HARNESS BROWN.—Night before last some scamp broke into C. L. Griswold's stable and stole his carriage harness. The wonder is that he did not take the horse and carriage.

THREE ARRESTED.—Yesterday afternoon, as officer Brockway left the fair ground and walked toward the railroad track on his way home, he noticed a couple of men in pursuit of a third—the latter having a couple of bundles under his arm. Mispecting something wrong, he awaited the fellow's approach, who was coming toward him. Just before the fugitive reached the fence between him and the officer he dropped his bundles and was about to jump the fence, when Mr. Brockway presented his pistol and told him to halt, which he did. When the pursuing men came up they picked up the bundles which the fellow had stolen from their wagon, being purchases which they had made in town. The fellow was turned over to the police on the ground and taken before Justice Albert, who held him to bail in the sum of $200, in default of which he was committed to the county jail.

MACON COUNTY FAIR.

5,000 People in Attendance—Splendid Show of Stock in the Ring. Other Premiums Awarded.

In yesterday's issue were given the premiums awarded up to noon of that day.
